Junior Super Intensive Summer Course

The Junior Super Intensive Programme is a brand new programme that offers junior students the possibility to have a more intensive English language tuition experience. CES International Junior Summer School combines expert English language training with a full programme of sports, activities and cultural visits. The morning lessons focus on developing the core language skills, with particular emphasis given to speaking and listening. Vocabulary and pronunciation work are integrated into each session. We use role-plays, AV technology, project work, and task-based activities to develop students' communicative skills. Students will also be asked to research and give weekly presentations on various aspects of Irish/UK culture, myth and legend.

As well as the morning classes mentioned above, students will have 3 additional afternoons classes aimed at improving their communicative proficiency through discussions, use of authentic material and technology.

English Language and Rugby

This programme started in 2009 with just 17 participants and we have doubled our numbers every year since then, such is the demand for our rugby programme.

Students who are just starting to play rugby, or who have rugby in mind as a professional career, can take this course. CES worked very closely with the IRI (Irish Rugby Institute – www.rugbyinstitute.com) to design and develop the most suitable course for our students.

With students coming to us from countries such as France, Italy, Spain, Argentina and Russia, the course has a truly international feel. The coaches all hold the highest coaching qualifications and some have played the game at the very highest international level.

Intensive, dedicated and strong are how the rugby students have ranked this programme. Modern teaching for the modern game of rugby.
